CRIMES!

A Michigan Farmer Kills His Wife.

Mrs. Emma Molloy says Cora Lee will die if she is not released from prison.

Two Brothers Quarrel and Both are Dead—A Young Man Shoots His Sweetheart.

The Knights All Right.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
CHICAGO, May 1.—Very Rev. Father Conway, of Chicago, says the Catholic church is not opposed to and does not condemn the Knights of Labor as long as their methods are peaceable and law abiding.

Shot His Sweetheart.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
HUNTSVILLE, W. Va., May 3.—Last night while Miss Belle Bartlett was lying on a lounge near an open window in her father's house, a rejected lover fired two shots at her, one ball passing through her shoulder, making a dangerous and probably fatal wound.

Mrs. Molloy.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 3.—Mrs. Molloy arrived from Bolivar Saturday afternoon, and is at Judge Baker's, where the Associated Press correspondent just left her. While there Mrs. Molloy read letters of sympathy which are a type of hundreds she has in her possession. Cora, said Mrs. Molloy, cannot long survive jail life, and unless liberated soon will die.

Boycotters Arrested.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
NEW YORK, May 3.—Michael Stroh, a bar tender; Hans Holduf, a musician, and Paul Wilzig, a waiter, all members of the Carl Schurz club, recently engaged in systematic boycotting a concert saloon, were arrested Saturday and indicted by the grand jury. The maximum penalty for the offense is five years in prison.

Greece Critical.

ATHENS, Greece, May 3.—The situation is complicated critically. The government resents interference of powers with its internal affairs.

A Farmer Kills Himself and Wife.

TEKONSHA, Mich., May 3.—One and a half miles east here Randyne Shedd, a wealthy pioneer, killed his wife at 7 o'clock this morning with an axe, while she was dressing, and then cut his own throat with a razor. The cause is said to be domestic trouble.

Shot His Brother and Himself.

LINCOLN, Ill., May 3.—Charles Deane, a respected young farmer, living near Elkhart, shot and killed his brother, Levert Deane, last night. He then went home and looked himself in a room and shot himself through the heart. There had been ill feelings between them for some time, but the cause is not known.

Escaping Convicts Shot.

LOUISVILLE, May 3.—While the convicts were going out of the stockade at Kenesaw coal mines near Jellico, Tenn., this morning, there were three attempts to escape. A white convict was shot dead and Wm. M. Bradley, colored, was fatally shot through the body. A plot for the escape of all the convicts, was discovered in time to frustrate it.

A PERFECTIONIST.

Death of John H. Noyes, Founder of the Oneida Community.

Probably not one person in twenty who reads that John Humphrey Noyes is dead will know who or what John Humphrey Noyes was. Yet every reader of newspapers has heard of the Oneida community, in Madison county, N. Y.

Well, the man whose death at Niagara Falls, Ont., the newspapers have noted, was the founder of this community. A singular history was his, and there have not been many persons whose real doctrines were more misunderstood.

Noyes was a man of fascinating manners and fine literary culture and taste. He was born in Brattleboro, Vt., in 1811. From a boy he was a dreamer, a person of deeply devout and meditative nature. N. H. Noyes, the English writer, visited the Oneida community some years ago and wrote his impressions of it and of its leader.

Noyes he describes as a "tall, pale man, with sandy hair and beard, gray, dreamy eyes, good mouth, white temples, and a noble forehead." There was something lion-like in his face and shaggy head. He resembled Carlyle in appearance, which was no great compliment to his beauty, perhaps.

THE LATE JOHN HUMPHREY NOYES.

Noyes was highly educated. He graduated at Dartmouth college and began the study of law. But in 1831 a great religious revival broke out at Putney, Vt. It drew young Noyes within its influence. He was a man of great energy and a destroyer of Christianity abandoned all his worldly prospects and began a work for the sake of religion.

He pondered deeply over religious questions and finally studied theology at Yale college. He considered that he had been converted and was a Christian. In 1833 he became a Congregational preacher. Soon after his peculiar ideas began to manifest themselves. He pondered more and more deeply on religious questions, till at last the Perfectionist doctrines began to be clear to him. He drew these doctrines from the New Testament and the teachings of Paul. Upon these he based the whole social and religious system, which afterward resulted in the founding of the Oneida community.

He became what he called a seeker after truth. His meditation and study brought him to the decision that the teachings of Paul have been misunderstood. He seems to have believed devoutly in the second coming of Christ, but not that it was to be a material appearance, with pomp and a flourish of trumpets, before the physical eyes of men. It was to be rather the quiet stealing into and impressing of the inner spirit of the individual, without outward sign other than the beautifying changes wrought in the character of the individual. Therefore, it was Noyes called himself and those who believed with him "Perfectionists," striving towards perfection in all ways—mental, moral, physical and spiritual.

Mingled with this were other doctrines of the equality of all mankind, and particularly the equality of men and women. He believed that those in whom the spirit truly dwelt should separate themselves from the world and live as one family, and return to community of goods, as in the days of the early Christians.

For such as these, also, there should be Christian liberty. The existing laws in regard to marriage, as other matters, should not be binding on them. His doctrines in regard to marriage were more furiously criticised than any others. And yet they seem to have meant directly the opposite of what they are commonly supposed to do. Noyes believed that men and women should live in a state of celibacy ordinarily, and that children should only be born from selected parents. It is a fact that few children were born in the Oneida community. Such as were were turned into a common nursery and school room.

The women of the organization looked very queer to the outside world. Many of them were wholesome and healthful looking, but they wore dresses made for convenience rather than for adornment—scent skirts to their knees, with trousers of the same goods below. Their hair was cut short, and they wore no corsets, but a dress in one piece fitting the form and buttoned close up to the throat. Noyes believed that women were put into the world for something else than merely to look fascinating and enticing to men.

Noyes' teachings were so opposed to the views of the church that his license to preach was speedily taken from him. Then he commenced to found his own sect. He married Harriet Holton, and with her obtained sufficient land and money on which to found his colony. She was in perfect sympathy with his plans. The first colony was started at Putney, Vt. But the citizens of Putney thought they had something to say about the Perfectionists. They broke up the settlement.

Then Noyes and his band of followers went to a retired region in Madison county, N. Y., and set up housekeeping. That was in 1847. The company bought 600 acres of land in course of time. They began to practice their doctrines. All worked for the good of the community, without seeking gain for himself. In thirty years they had, without at all attempting to do so, amassed a valuable property, worth $500,000. The "Oneida trap," known to fur hunters the country over, was the invention of an old Canadian trapper who had joined the community. They prospered greatly, and seemed to live in peace and content.

In 1874 there were 238 of them, with a branch establishment. Hepworth Dixon declared that in the peculiar costume worn by the female portion of the community, "plain women escaped notice and pretty girls looked winsome."

In 1879 the noted preachers of the state of New York interfered with the Perfectionists, and set about collecting legal evidence whereby they could be suppressed. Thereupon, in defence to public sentiment, Noyes advised the organization to give up complex marriage and pair off like common folk. This was done. After that Noyes did not live constantly with the community.

He adhered to the last to his doctrines, but believed the world was not yet ripe for them.

The democrats of Goshen have nominated for mayor, Dr. P. Harding; clerk, George A. Beck; treasurer, C. S. Haskell; marshal, Samuel Self; water works trustees, Isaac Summers; councilmen, Charles Koehler, James Smith and P. A. Welsh.

Hon. J. E. McCullough, of Gibson county, has already secured enough votes to insure his nomination for congress in the First (Evansville) district. His principal competitor is Major Geo. V. Menzies, of Posey county.

The contracts for certain furniture for the Indiana state house, for which the Andrews company, of Chicago, tendered a bid of $19,227.80, was awarded Thursday to the Phoenix company, of Grand Rapids, for $14,574.56.

The democratic city primary at Huntington yesterday, resulted in the selection of the following ticket for city officers next Tuesday: For mayor, S. F. Day, present incumbent; clerk, J. M. Black; treasurer, J. M. Hargrove, present incumbent; marshal, A. J. Rosebrough.

65,000!

Men Still on a Strike at Chicago.

While Forty Thousand Win Eight Hours and the Old Wages--The Strike To-day.

Cincinnati, Louisville and Pittsburgh Struggling With the Toiling Masses--Peace Reigns so far.

CHICAGO.

NO TROUBLE YET TO-DAY.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Up to 9:30 no trouble has been reported in the lumber district. The firms located at South Chicago are working as usual to-day, but in lumber district proper, no work at all is being done. A large fleet of lumber laden craft is blocking up the river near the lumber exchange, and none of the cargoes will be bought or unloaded until the present difficulties are settled. It is stated that upwards of 300 or more vessels with cargoes of lumber are on their way here.

HOW THEY SUCCEED.

Of the thirty-seven establishments wherein the iron moulders are employed, twenty-three shops have won, five are resisting the movement and the remainder are negotiating. The machinists' and blacksmiths' assembly, which are striking for eight hours with the ten hour wages scale, reports general success.

The upholsterers are being resisted in nearly every instance. Thirty-three hundred brickmakers are striking for eight hours work at ten hours pay.

About one-half of the 600 butchers in the city have secured reductions of from sixteen to ten hours.

The Shoemakers' assembly has modified its demands to eight hours' work for eight hours' pay, and expect to gain this concession.

The Clerks' union will be satisfied with ten hours.

Four hundred wagon workers begin work to-day under the eight hour reform.

The marble workers have also won under the eight hours' pay agreement. The Coopers' assembly are still standing out for nine hours' pay.

It is reported the men were set to work in the Western avenue freight house of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road this morning.

The factory of the Chicago Malleable Iron company closed this morning. Nine hundred employees are out on a strike.

MARTIN IRONS EXPELLED.

The Inter-Ocean says: "The national executive committee, George J. Verbech, returned last night from St. Louis. He says the Knights of Labor have expelled Martin Irons, because he refused to obey General Master Workman Powderly's orders and for the reason that he stubbornly refused to arbitrate. Verbech refuses to give details."

THE NUMBER OF STRIKERS.

It was estimated last night that 40,000 of the 225,000 wage workers of Chicago, have already profited by the eight hour movement. About 65,000 are supposed to be out on a strike this morning.

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS.

The Burlington freight houses were thrown open shortly after 8 o'clock. No attempt was made to drive the non-union freight handlers from the houses. The company has a full force of 100 men at work and soon was taking all freight that could be delivered. Guards were kept at the doors and no suspicious characters are admitted.

The Wabash railway officials sought the protection of the United States authorities to enable them to move freight.

CONSULTING.

All the calculations of the stock yard packers were upset by the great strike among the sausage-makers this morning. They insisted on having ten hours pay for eight hours work. Nearly 7,000 men were in the movement. At 11 o'clock this afternoon a committee of twenty-four strikers went into conference.

EIGHT HOURS GRANTED.

Before noon the Fairbanks Canning company agreed that there should be no cut in the wages of men working for less than $2 a day, and all above that should get nine hours pay for eight hours work. Morrell also settled on the same basis.

Only half of the men at McCormick's reaper works went to work. The firm sent word they would give ten hours pay for eight hours work, at least until they found out how the present eight hour movement would come out.

The presidents of three of the western railroads were interviewed yesterday, and each one expresses the view that the men were simply forced into the strike by outside pressure, and are willing to return to their work as usual this morning.

There was considerable intimidation in the lumber district and several large crowds marched through the yards to prevent work.

All railroads have freight houses open, but are enabled to transact only a limited amount of business.

The labor question was discussed by the Rev. Dr. Thomas in his first sermon at McVicker's theatre yesterday morning under the heading of "Lessons for the Times." He regards the present troubles as a heritage of past centuries which the people of the present are called upon to meet; and says to retreat or surrender would be to go back to darkness and despotism. Reason and right must prevail.

"What Clergymen Know About Labor and Capital: Law and Amenity," was the subject of Professor Swing's discourse. He said it was a calamity to possess more advice than intelligence.

ALL QUIET AT 2 O'CLOCK.

Up to 2 o'clock there have been no acts of serious violence in any part of the city as a result of the existing strikes. At the Milwaukee and St. Paul depot three to five thousand men gathered and was somewhat demonstrative. Two squads of police arrived, and drawing clubs effectually scattered the crowd, allowing no men to proceed with the work. The strikers did not attempt to seriously oppose the police.

MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, May 3.—A report from the West Milwaukee railway shops says that a body of 1,500 strikers visited there this afternoon and forced 2,000 men employed to abandon their work.

CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—About 300 men employed as freight handlers at the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Indianapolis, Big Four and L. & M. roads are idle because of the demand for an advance of eighty cents a day. At other roads the men are at work. The railroad managers hold a meeting this afternoon to argue upon a line of action. The employees of another furniture factory came out to-day. No signs of violence anywhere.

PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—Strikes were inaugurated this morning by the stone masons, carpenters and plasterers for a reduction from ten to eight hours a day. About 1,800 men in all quit work.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, May 3.—One hundred and fifty workmen of the Davis Furniture Manufacturing company struck because their employers would not accede to a demand for the eight hour system. The other factories will close to-morrow rather than put the eight hour system in operation. They employ 2,000 members.

GRAND RAPIDS.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 3.—The furniture factories with but two exceptions started up this morning with full gangs of men, all satisfied with the arrangements made. There was a riot here yesterday and clubs and revolvers were used.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—A very general lockout began here to-day against the eight hour demands of the unions of bricklayers, hod carriers, stone cutters, stone rubbers, painters, plumbers and carpenters, numbering in the aggregate over 2,000 men. There has been no disturbance of the peace.

ST. LOUIS.

TRYING TO END THE STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—Chairman Curtin, of the congressional labor investigating committee, busied himself during the greater part of yesterday in an attempt to end the Gould Southwestern system strike. He held a conference with a member of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, and afterward with Mr. Hoxie. He conferred a second time with the members of the board. It is expected the outcome will be an end to the strike during the next thirty-six hours.

After several months idleness, the Vulcan iron works of Carondelet resumed operations this morning, giving employment to about 600 men.

MARTIN IRONS.

Martin Irons says there is absolutely no truth in the report of his expulsion. There is not nor never has been any such man as Verbech upon any committee of the Knights of Labor.

BRAKEMEN STRIKE.

CHEYENNE, Wyoming, May 3.—The brakemen on Union Pacific railroad, on the Nebraska division between Laramie and Sydney struck to-day against the new schedule of mileage and pay. Freight trains are stopped.

Mr. BARNUM says that he has wasted $5,000 on boomerang throwers. "You've heard of Australian bushmen," he said, "who have a weapon made of a bent stick that they throw with wonderful skill, hitting the prey unerringly, the boomerang returning of itself to fall at the feet of the marksman? I had an agent go from London to the wilds of New South Wales; but he writes me that the accounts are two-thirds lies, and the remaining third isn't worth bringing away. The boomerang is a fact, and the native Australian savages fling it at game, missing about as often as hitting; and it will return, if it strikes nothing, to somewhere near the starting point, but with no sort of certainty. My man searched thoroughly, and witnessed the feats of the best experts to be found, but they amounted to nothing in particular. The famous boomerang is practically a myth."

A Big Earthquake in Ohio.

People are Badly Frightened and Windows are Shattered as by a Fierce Cannonade.

Jones and Small Open at Baltimore--A Big Sunday Fire at Oberlin, Ohio.

An Earthquake in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—A special from Athens, Ohio, says an earthquake shock of sufficient force to sway houses and startle the occupants, occurred there at 9:23 last night. It was as distinct as a cannonade. A similar report comes from Nelsonville, nine miles distant, where the shock broke windows.

Jones and Small at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 3.—Sam Jones and Sam Small, the evangelists, arrived in this city Saturday night, and yesterday opened their crusade against sin. Jones held a meeting in the afternoon and at night in the Biddle street roller rink. Fully 5,000 people were present each time, and many were unable to gain admittance. Small will commence work to-night. The evangelists are assisted by a choir of 150 voices, and every arrangement has been made for the carrying on of an extensive revival.

A Big Fire.

BERLIN, O., May 3.—A fire yesterday destroyed fifteen store buildings. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $24,000.

A Letter From the Sea.

Mr. Saynor, of the Windsor hotel, showed us a letter this morning addressed Mr. G. Hamilton, Windsor hotel, Fort Wayne, Ind., U. S. A., which was recovered from the sunken steamer Oregon. Across the back of the letter was a label which read:

NEW YORK P. O., May 1, 1880.

This piece is a portion of the mail forwarded from Queenstown, Ireland, per steamer Oregon, on March 7th, and damaged by the sinking of that ship off Five Island on March 14th.

HENRY G. PEARSON, Postmaster.

Local Labor News.

The labor assemblies have not participated in the labor movement for eight hours. One or two men asked for higher wages at the Olds spoke factory. The railroads find business dull at Chicago and little shipping to and from it.

Change on the Wabash.

Train 49, west bound, at 8:33 p. m. is discontinued. Train 44, east bound at 8:05 p. m. heretofore, will leave at 8:00 p. m. Train 46, leaving at 1:20 p. m. which has been daily heretofore, will be daily except Sunday hereafter.

Cases for Trial.

The following cases were set for trial by Judge O'Rourke this afternoon: John McKee vs. A. J. Taylor, May 18th; John Driebelbiss vs. John Goldstone, May 21st; Gideon W. Seavey vs. Allen H. Dougall, May 25th; Thomas Abert vs. the Pennsylvania company, May 24th; P. A. Randall vs. Abraham Wolf, May 26th; Emma Davis vs. Jacob M. Fredrickson, May 27th.

The New First Church Organ.

An attractive feature of the opening of the new First Presbyterian church, yesterday, was the music of the great "King" organ, presided over by Prof. Charley Meyer. The organ is a model of perfection and while it is, in this country, surpassed in size, it is unequalled in tone, volume and harmony. Its notes blend in sweetest consonance and the resources of the instrument are complete from the most delicate note to the thundering sounds of the full organ. Its pedal contrivances enable the executor to make the changes and shiftings with ease and harmony and altogether the First church people have every reason to be proud of their purchase, which is decidedly a credit to the King Organ company.

Proclamation.

Notice is hereby given to all saloon keepers and other retail dealers in intoxicating liquors in the city of Fort Wayne that they must on Tuesday, the 4th day of May, 1886, between the hours 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., keep their saloons or other places where intoxicating liquors are sold, closed or they will be prosecuted according to law. I charge the city marshals and police officers to report for prosecution any and all persons violating this order.

Witness my hand and official seal of this city, this 1st day of May, 1886.

WANTED.

Local Men to take orders for our Specialties in their own towns and counties. Live men make $5 a day. Write for terms, giving references and age. CHARLES H. CHASE, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y. April 26th 1886.

Lafayette, Ind., shares, with twenty-three other cities and towns in the United States, the distinction of being named after the great French patriot who did so much for this country and his own, but it is alone in the honor of being mentioned in the Encyclopedia Britannica. Life in the lively pushing city on the Wabash, with its many cosy homes, fine public buildings and general air of prosperity and enterprise, is very pleasant, and recently many of its citizens felt that it has assumed new charms since rheumatism has been robbed of its terrors.

This great benefaction, however, is not one which rejoices this particular Lafayette alone, but it has been given to other Lafayettes as well, and to the world. Athrophos is the magic remedy which drives away rheumatism and neuralgia, and Lafayette has only shown its characteristic enterprise in recognizing the new cure's many virtues. Among those whom it has benefited is Mrs. Francis Heath, of No. 79 Ferry street, an old resident and the mother of banker Heath. In answer to one who recently called on her to learn the facts in the case she gave this account:

"I have had rheumatic pains in my feet for a number of years. They affected me at times so that it was with much difficulty that I could walk, especially in going down stairs. Athrophos was first recommended to me by Bishop Bowman. I did not get it at that time, but kept trying other medicines. It was again recommended to me by a lady. I then sent for and bought a bottle. I took a dose, and it seemed to me as if I could feel it go through my system until it came directly to the sore spot. It felt just as a little stream of water looks when during its course it comes in contact with a pebble. One or the other must give way. The water may run around the stone, but that was not the way Athrophos did. It did not go around the pain, but drove it away. The relief was almost instantaneous. While I am getting along in years and cannot expect to get rid entirely of these pains at once, yet a small dose of Athrophos in a little cream—the way in which I find most pleasant to take it—relieves the pain immediately."

Mr. Baldrige, who is in the real estate and insurance business at No. 93 South Third street, and who lives at No. 17 North Sixth street, happening to be passing while Mrs. Heath was speaking, she called him in and he gladly told how he had been cured of rheumatism by Athrophos.

"I was just about to start down to my office one morning last winter," he said, "when a terrible pain took me right in the hip and then ran down the sciatic nerve as quick as lightning. It was with much pain and distress that I managed to get down to my office at all. My business being such that it was necessary for me to be at the office every day, I was obliged to hobble along and get there the best I could. I suffered for some time in this way, trying all kinds of remedies, but nothing seemed to check the disease until I commenced using Athrophos. The first four doses gave me relief. I only used one bottle, and am perfectly well, as you see me now. I have never had any return of the pain since I took the Athrophos."

If you cannot get ATHROPHOS from your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order it at once from us, as directed. ATHROPHOS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

JOAQUIN MILLER, who is now in Texas, writes that he is going back to Mexico to make that country his home.

A GIRL in Maine boasts that she can make 338 kinds of cake. The man who eats her 338 kinds of cake will probably have 338 kinds of nightmare to match the cake.—Newman Independent.

AS AN instance of the richness of the gold mines around Dahlonega, Georgia, an old miner says that he was offered $25 for his working suit of clothes by a gentleman who wanted to burn the suit and pan the ashes for the gold contained in the suit. The offer was refused because he says he can get more than that amount from them.

THIRTY-TWO men and 140 women are busy in the annex of the Agricultural Department building supplying the Congressional demand for seed just now. Six thousand paper packages of vegetable seed, 500 of flower seed, 300 of tobacco, twenty quarts of sorghum, twenty of corn, fifty of grass, twenty-eight quarts of sugar beet, and thirty-two quarts of cotton seed is the allowance of each Senator and Representative.

THE New York legislature has passed and the Governor has signed a bill termed "The Niagara Tunnel and Sewer Bill," which is expected to make Niagara Falls one of the great commercial centers of the State. Rights have been granted the incorporators to construct a tunnel, erect mills, build wharves, and engage in developing the water power of the Niagara river. The tunnel is to be two miles in length, along the edge of the river, and is expected to furnish power enough for 155 mills.

THE exigencies of politics in Colorado are illustrated in a story of the Senatorship contest out of which Henry M. Teller was elected to the United States Senate. The mother of State Senator Stephenson, who was one of Teller's supporters, died in Nebraska two or three days before the caucus was to meet. In order to attend the funeral and get back in time Stephenson was obliged to take a special train and make the trip at night. The train consisted of an engine and one car. The engineer had instructions to stop for nothing. It was a cold night and cattle had strayed upon the tracks at different points to sleep. When the engineer discovered a bunch of these he just pulled the throttle valve a little wider open and sent the beebes flying in the air. They killed seventy-five head of cattle on the trip.

THE Comanche (Texas) Chief has this notice of a specimen of Southwestern eloquence: "Luther Benson, the great temperance orator, lectured to densely crowded houses Thursday and Friday nights. Never have we heard such an awful and terrific denunciation of the whisky traffic and the evils of alcohol. It would take the most extravagant praise of every man, woman, and child present to give the faintest idea of the real grandeur of that man's words—the drollest, the prettiest, the most sublime, or the saddest words that ever fell from human lips. With every flight he seemed to rise higher and higher, and when he brought his majestic, sweeping gestures into play he was like the eagle parting the clouds with a tireless wing; then he would lower his splendid voice, and in a tone of unutterable tenderness, relate some pathetic incident that caused tears to rush unbidden to every eye; and then suddenly, with a tongue of flame, he thundered away in a fierce attack against the evil that has draped the world in sorrow, while his great, and eyes seemed to look clear across the plains of eternity. He finally closed with reference to his God, and, raising those lustrous eyes to heaven, he delivered an apostrophe that is seldom equaled. It was a burst of solemn and pathetic feeling; it was electric. It was like the last beam of sunset, or the gleam of summer lightning, radiating from the brow of cliff and mountain."

JENNY LIND, at the age of 63, is said to still possess a wonderful sweetness of voice. She rejoices in two daughters happily married.

THE mother of Gen. McPherson receives a pension of $50 a month, and that amount is also paid to the widows of twenty-six deceased generals of the late war—Haskellman, Richardson, Wallace, Plummer, Stevens, Baker, Whipple, Sumner, Bedwell, Harris, Berry, Lovell, Anderson, Canby, Thomas, Heintzleman, Stanley, Mitchell, Casey, Taylor, Rosseau, Custer, French, Ramsey, and Warren. The widows of Admirals Wood, Reynolds, Hooffe, Bell, Davis, Winslow, Paulding, Rodgers, Spotts and Goldboro, and of Commodores Gallagher, Frailey, McCauley, McCarver and Quest of the navy receive a similar amount, as do the widows of Colonels Harris, Delaney, and Twiggs of the marine corps. The only widow of a civilian drawing a pension is Mrs. A. B. Meacham, whose husband was a chief of the Modoc Peace Commission, and was crippled for life in the massacre of 1873, when Gen. Canby was killed. She receives a pension of $30 per month, granted by Congress in 1883. The pension of $2,000 a year that has been granted Mrs. Hancock is the largest paid to the widow of any soldier, except Mrs. Grant, who receives the $5,000 a year granted to all the widows of Presidents. Mrs. Polk, Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Garfield. The widow of General and ex-Senator Shields receives the next largest sum, $1,200 a year, granted to her by a special act of Congress in 1879.

A HORRIBLE deed of blood committed near Girgenti gives an illustration of the use of the knife in the Island of Sicily. Two butchers, father and son, of the name of Indelicato, who kept a shop in that town, not long since took two brothers named Alfonso and Giovanni Cannetoni into partnership. Before long the Cannetonis began to trade in lambs' carcasses separately on their own account, and disagreements arose, which ultimately led to a collision between Baldassare Indelicato and Alfonso Cannetoni. They drew their butchers' knives from their belts on each other. Alfonso aimed a well-directed blow at Baldassare. He parried it with his left arm, which was cut to the bone, and at the same instant drove his knife into the heart of Alfonso, who fell dead on the spot. At that moment a young son of Alfonso, aged 19, came up with a bludgeon to his father's assistance. Baldassare struck him to the ground, and then cut his throat across "as he would have slaughtered a sheep." Mad with rage, Baldassare then rushed into the shop, and taking Giovanni, the younger brother of Alfonso, by surprise, killed him with a slash across the abdomen. Turning then to leave the shop he inflicted a serious wound on a person just entering. All this occurred in the space of four minutes, the result of the collision being three persons killed and two wounded.

FRANCE is surrounded with many dangers, mostly growing out of the hostility of the three Emperors to Republican France. Bismarck has made a threat to dismember Savoy and Nice and give it to Italy, as the price of her alliance. France and England are practically the only nations of Europe representing individualism and democratic institutions, and it is upon them that will fall the weight of the three communistic nations of Central and Eastern Europe, and in which we will certainly become involved. England, France, and the United States are the three great powers representing ideas that the balance of Europe will engage. The conflict on the line of this idea is inevitable, although it may be somewhat removed in point of time. Just now democratic institutions in England and America are undergoing considerable strain, and the question of permanency of society and orderly government will be better known a couple of years hence. The recent ebullition of popular sentiment in Germany and the growth of the democratic idea there will render a war of repression by the Holy Alliance somewhat doubtful to the three Kaisers who, in a war with France, would look all Europe in a solidarity of communal despotism.

MR. BRECHER was asked by an interviewer what he thought of Sam Jones. "He seems to be a sincere man who has doubtless done some good, but who has not extended the bounds of his thought perhaps," said he. "It may be that the people he reached did not care much about the bounds of thought. Because a man does not like one style of preaching it does not follow that he has a right to condemn it. There are all kinds of churches and all kinds of preachers, and if a man does not like one he can go to another. Because he does not like his cut of veal he cannot say that the guests of the hotel are to be deprived of veal. Instead, he ought to look over the bill of fare and select what he wants and let the other people around the table do the same. He has apparently reached a class that need to be reached. In this case he has doubtless done good work. Of all the evangelists Mr. Moody is the broadest and deepest, and his influence will be the most permanent."

CAPT. BOYCOTT, who will live as an active verb in the English language long after he will be forgotten as an Irish land agent, has sold his property at Lough Mask, County Mayo, Ireland, and removed to England, where he is appointed agent of the Flixton Hall estates of Lord Waveney. Capt. Boycott has been for many years a patron of the Irish turf, and kept some famous racers. He was agent for the estates of the Earl of Erne in Ireland, and his harshness and cruelty helped to precipitate the recent Irish land war. Since he was boycotted, six years ago, he has lived in peace with the tenantry, and has grown as nearly popular as an Irish land agent can hope to be.

OF Gen. Von Manteuffel, the late German military Governor of conquered Alsace, who hated all that was French, it is said that he once, at a public dinner, engaged in a dispute with a French diplomat who maintained the superiority of the French workmen over the artisans of all other nations. "A thing so ugly does not exist that the skill and genius of a Frenchman cannot make of it a thing of beauty," he said. Angered by the contradiction, the old soldier pulled a hair from his bristly gray mustache and, handing it to the Frenchman, said, "Let him make a thing of beauty out of that, then, and prove your claim." The Frenchman took the hair and sent it in a letter to a well-known Parisian jeweler, with a statement of the case and an appeal to his patriotic pride, giving him no limit of expense in executing the order. A week later the mail from Paris brought a neat little box for the general. In it was a handsome scarf-pin, made like a Prussian eagle, that held in its talons a stiff gray bristle, from either end of which dangled a tiny golden ball. One was inscribed Alsace, the other Lorraine, and on the eagle's perch were the words: "You hold them but by a hair."

BILIOUSNESS
Is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may follow. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

By an enumeration just completed, the school population of Richmond is 5,866. An enumeration of population taken at the same time shows 16,456, of whom 909 are colored.

The Hop Plaster will cure Back Ache, and all other pains instantly. 25 cents only, at druggists.

A poor appetite, a badly nourished body shattered nerves are the three worst enemies of human happiness. All who take NICHOL'S BARK AND IRON are effectually protected from these calamities. 17-47

IN THE DEAR OLD DAYS.
We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the hesitations of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balm will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.

ANOTHER HOBBY DEAD.

Quinine in Disfavor
(From Baltimore Morning Herald)

In the Kharkoo region of Russia, quinine is considered of no account for the cure of chills and fever. The Kharkoo doctor catches a mess of live crabs, pours whiskey over them until they become hilariously drunk, and then puts them in a hot oven. After being well dried, they are pulverized, shells and all and administered in drachm doses. Where the crabs most abound in this country, in the waters of the Eastern shore of Maryland and Eastern shore of Virginia, the inhabitants have long since abandoned the use of quinine and sensibly resort to prevention in the use of pure whiskey. In the malarial sections of the great West, Southwest and South, this once famed remedy is now looked upon as worse than the disease. In territories where the virgin soil is first broken, the malarial poison exuding therefrom spreads pestilence far and near. Years ago in the homes of the first settlers, an admixture of whiskey and quinine was the favorite dose for the chills, but after years of dosing in this crude manner, quinine has long since been given up and whiskey only remains in the flask, for family and medicinal use. Experience taught these settlers long ago, that the amount of quinine required to drive out the malarial poison in the blood, left in its place, if not a worse poison, a condition of the system more dangerous and of better. The effects of the quinine were clearly defined in long continued headaches, disordered stomachs, clouded mental faculties, disturbed sleep, and morbid appetite, and the only virtue discovered in its use they thought attributable to the whiskey in the mixture. The medical profession has very gratefully modified its belief in quinine as a specific. Gaillard's Medical Journal, October, 1885, containing an article by L. B. Anderson, M. D., Norfolk, Va., in which the learned doctor uses this emphatic language: "I hope I may be pardoned for saying that the present empirical use of quinine is worthy of the darkest period of the dark ages. It is a blighting shame and disgrace to our profession." The people exposed to malaria now fortify their systems against the approach and inroads of the disease by the use of pure undiluted stimulants in the form of whiskey. Now that "dirty" pure malt whiskey is the only absolutely pure whiskey, free from fusel oil, as has been tested by chemists, it is the recognized cure in malarial attacks and so recognized by the people and the medical profession.

LIBRARIAN OF CONGRESS.

Also Our Greatest Statistician and Bibliographer.

When in 1802 congress founded its library it also provided that a librarian should be engaged and paid at the rate of $2 per day when actually employed. The present librarian, Ainsworth R. Spofford, has a salary of $4,000, with twenty-three assistants with salaries ranging from $2,500 to $450, the entire salary list being $58,000 per annum. This in itself is an indication of the growth of the institution, which will in a few years have a building adequate to its needs.

AINSWORTH R. SPOFFORD.

Mr. Spofford was a New Hampshire boy, born sixty-one years ago. His education was had at private schools, and included chiefly a thorough classical course. He was chosen an assistant librarian of congress chiefly through the remarkable talent he displayed in compiling statistics, coupled with one of the most retentive of memories. In 1864 he published an alphabetical catalogue of the library, and this with supplements which have followed is exceedingly valuable to bibliographers. In 1875 Mr. Spofford became principal librarian and has worked ceaselessly for the advancement of the library, it being very largely through his efforts that the new library building has become so near a fact. The American Almanac is edited by Mr. Spofford, and is truly a treasury of facts. In 1870 the copyright business was transferred from the patent office to the care of congress. This has largely increased his labors.

Only members of congress and about forty high officials of the government are allowed to take books out of this library, and yet there are 5,000 books out all the time. The library is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and any one above 16 years of age is allowed free use of its books for consultation within its walls.

THE NEW CHINESE MINISTER.

His Picture and His Life as Far as Known.
His excellency, Chang Yen Woon, is the new Chinese minister to the United States. He is said to be tall and handsome. The last part of the statement seems rather startling. Mr. Woon is picture-que-looking, sitting there in his quilted petticoats and queer little cap, like the pictures on a Chinese tea box, but one would not at first call him handsome. However, he might grow on one, in time, becoming, like Katisha in "The Mikado," an acquired taste. Perhaps in due time the Washington society ladies will rave over him in their amiable manner, and call him a sweet thing.

HON. C. Y. WOON.

It must be with mingling feelings that he sets foot upon American soil, and disgust must be one of the feelings. He came by way of San Francisco, but he and his legation were not allowed to land for some time in this free country because of the stiff laws relating to Chinese immigrants. They were treated as common Chinese laborers until their papers were all gone through and their cast-iron credentials proved. This of itself could have been nothing less than a mortal insult to the high-minded mandarin. China must love America, anyhow.

After the delay on shipboard the legation, nineteen persons in all, proceeded to the Palace hotel in San Francisco, thence eastward. Chang Yen Woon is a gentleman of high culture. He wears peacock feathers in his cap. That is the badge of a mandarin of the second rank. His thumb ring and pointed finger nails also show his high degree. He is 50 years old, and dresses in the richest silks and gold embroidery. His wardrobe would make a city belle pale with envy. But his wardrobe is not his chief recommendation. He is a highly cultured man, to begin with, and in this respect he has the advantage of some of the ministers the United States has sent to foreign parts.

The Chinese embassy at this moment has duties of unusual importance on its hands. Through it will have to be settled the little fracas in which our untried countrymen up in Washington territory lately annoyed themselves by killing and robbing Chinamen. That was their idea of fun. Chang Yen Woon is charged with very special dispatches regarding this matter. His emperor's last instructions to him were to promote an amicable feeling between the two nations. Two or three members of the legation were educated in America. Leng Shin, the interpreter, is a graduate of Amherst college. He wears the scarlet cap and gold button of a mandarin of the seventh degree. Lin and Leang, two other members of the embassy, were also educated here.

Saloon keepers of Jeffersonville are organizing to force upon the city council a reduction in their city license tax, and propose to make it an issue in the city election of next Tuesday.

A POEM TO CORA.

George Graham's Ode to His Missouri Mistress.

This was George Graham's last effusion on Cora Lee, for whom he had mad infatuation:

ON A LEE SHORE.
Lost bark, ill-fated crew!
No earthly power can aid you in this gale;
To loved ones you have spoken your last adieu.
The sea to-night will choke your dying wail.

The mermaids of the deep are waiting you
No soul may escape to tell the mournful tale;
How dark winged death above the tempest flew,
And touched with heavy hand your fated sail.
Row back, he needs no more your pitying aid.

Row back, he needs no more your pitying aid,
God grant he hath found rest;
The wild waves make no terrors; storms may pour;
He sleeps as sweet as if soft winds caressed.

Back to the land, while threatening thun-
ders roar
While the death-light hides in the black cloud's breast.
Through wind and tide he brought two souls ashore.
And for him who died, God's will His best.

They are Not sorry.
There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING. EPPS'S COCOA.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by no means a joke to say that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."
—Civil Service Gazette.
Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins by grocers, labeled thus: JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, London, England.

OUR BREAD IN DANGER.

The Alarming Increase in Baking Powder Adulterations.

Among recent important discoveries by the food analysts is that by Prof. MOTT, U. S. Government Chemist, of large amounts of lime and alum in the cheap baking powders. It is a startling fact that of over one hundred different brands of baking powder so far analyzed, comprising all those sold in this vicinity, not one, with the single exception of Royal Baking Powder, was found free from both lime and alum.

The use of alum is to produce a cheap baking powder. It costs less than two cents a pound, whereas pure cream of tartar costs forty. Its effect upon the system has been ascertained to be poisonous, and overdoses have been attended with fatal results. Lime is the most useless adulterant yet found in baking powders. It is true that when subjected to heat a certain amount of carbonic acid gas is given off, but a quicklime is left, a caustic so powerful that it is used by tanners to eat the hair from hides of animals, and in dissecting rooms to more quickly rot the flesh from the bones of dead subjects.

The effect of lime upon the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys, more particularly of infants and children, and especially when taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal, is pernicious in the extreme, and is said by physicians to be one of the chief causes of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the kidneys. Chemists have found 12 per cent., or one-eighth of the weight, of some of the baking powders prominently sold in this vicinity, to be lime. The wickedness of this adulteration is apparent.

The absolute purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder—now affirmed by every chemist and food analyst of prominence, and conceded by all manufacturers of other brands—arises from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined by patent processes, which remove totally the lime and all other impurities. These facilities are possessed by no other manufacturer. The Chemist of the Department of Health of Brooklyn, N. Y., in which city the works of the Royal Baking Powder Company are situated, after recent numerous experiments, reports:

"I subjected several samples of the Royal Baking Powder, purchased from dealers in Brooklyn, to chemical analysis, and I take pleasure in stating that this powder has attained a most remarkable purity. I am unable to detect the slightest trace of lime tartrate in it, while all its constituents are pure and of the highest quality. The 'Royal' is a baking powder undoubtedly of the greatest leavening power, and perfectly wholesome.

ANTI-KALSOMIN.

We are now the agents for the only permanent wall finish Anti-Kalsomine. It covers as well as kalsomine, need never be washed to be renewed; will take a hundred coats if necessary, without cracking, chalking or peeling off. It is sanitary in its composition, kalsomine is not. It is also an excellent primer for outside as well as inside work; it fills the pores of the wood better than whitelead, ochre or any known pigment; makes a more solid surface, is much cheaper than ochre or lead, and is the best covering for walls known. Try it and be convinced.

We have also a large stock of wall paper patterns, ceiling decorations and borders, mixed paints, brushes, artists materials, etc. Give us a call at the paint and paper store of Wilding & Son, 191 Calhoun street.

THE CITY.

The circuit court jury has been called for May 18th.

Mr. R. T. McDonald went to Galesburg, Ill., last night.

Mr. Bart McCarthy returned to Indianapolis this morning.

Julius Tonner, of this city, left last night for Germany for a two months stay.

The government license must be paid by local tobacco and liquor men before May 10.

L. M. Martin, agent of the Wabash at Des Moines, Iowa, was in the city over Sunday.

Martin Detzer, the druggist, was at Defiance to-day attending the funeral of a relative.

Mr. Fred. Beach declines to run against Mr. Wm. Meyer for water works trustee.

The city treasurer's office closed this morning to permit Mr. Berghoff to make a settlement.

M. Kinkel has obtained a permit to repair a frame house on lot No. 13, Lillie's addition, at a cost of $40.

The children of the Cathedral schools will partake of their first holy communion the second Sunday in June.

The R. R. Y. M. C. A. will hold a meeting at the reading rooms to-night, and the public is invited to participate.

Wm. Martin, the independent candidate for council in the Fourth ward, took out his second naturalization papers this morning.

The Hartkopf museum went to Upper Sandusky to-day. Mr. Chas. Goodwin did not sell his interest and he and John Harmon manage the attraction.

The Indiana Music Teachers' association meets at Indianapolis on the 22d to 25th of June next. Prof. W. F. Heath will attend from this city.

THE SENTINEL had a big rush of advertising Saturday, and the religious announcements and columns of other reading matter had to be omitted.

Tony Hilleker, a very popular young man, and Miss Mary Gallagher, will tomorrow be made one. We extend to the young couple our sincere congratulations in advance.

Emanuel's Lutheran church have decided to create a new class in their school department, thereby necessitating the engagement of an extra teacher, making six in all.

Next Thursday, if the weather permits, Capt. F. F. Boltz's "George B." and J. W. Pearce's "Judge Hooley" trot for $50 a side. Another race will be trotted two weeks from that date for $100 a side. The money is up.

Patronize home institutions. Nothing is more provoking to a live business man than to see people send away for goods; goods that he carries in stock and sells just as cheap as any other dealer. Patronize home merchants.

Mr. W. B. Beamer, master of transportation on the Springfield division of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Beamer is the picture of health, and his friends here know he is one of the best railroad men in the country.

The Pennsylvania company has issued a new consolidated 1,000 mile ticket book, which will be good over the Pennsylvania line west of Pittsburg. Herebefore it has had two books, one over the Pennsylvania line proper and the other over the Pan Handle. The books are for shippers only.

The Dayton Herald, speaking of the Easter music in the Catholic church there, says: "The solos of the Misses Lillie and Louie Butz were finely executed and their sweet voices thrilled the hearts of their many admirers." The Misses Butz were recently the guests of their uncle, Rev. Father Koenig, in this city.

This item from the Grand Rapids Democrat will interest the friends of Mr. J. B. Hayes in this city. "The Arlington at Petoskey will begin business between June 15 and 25 and James R. Hayes, who leaves here Monday to get things in order, will make several important improvements. He will have an Italian band to discourse music in the afternoon and evening, and make everything pleasant for his guests."

Rev. Mr. Lowry is in the city, visiting his many friends.

Mr. George F. Seeley and his family have removed to Chicago.

The congressional convention occurs one week from next Thursday.

Laz. Hirsch, of Lafayette, will sell his household goods at auction May 5.

Mr. Bob. DeWald went east via the Wabash on a business tour to-day.

Mr. John T. Marton, of No. 155 Holman street, was buried this morning.

Mrs. C. L. Olds, of Indianapolis, was the guest of her parents here last week.

The Tivola garden was opened yesterday. Prof. Kientz and his musicians furnished music.

Jerry Metzger, a conductor on the Grand Rapids road, will spend a week's vacation at Rome City.

The three Presbyterian churches united in their service yesterday at the opening of the new church.

Phoenix Lodge No. 101. K. of P., will meet in Odd Fellows lodge room over the post office, to-morrow evening.

The city Y. M. C. A. meets this evening to see if anything can be done to secure a down town library and reading room.

Miss Bessie Brady, who was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. R. C. Bell, last week, returned to her home at Muncie yesterday.

Mr. C. A. Bookwalter, of the People, was at Andrews yesterday to see his wife and baby, who are visiting relatives there.

"Madison is greatly pleased with its electric light, and so are Fort Wayne and Terre Haute," says the Indianapolis News.

Dr. Herriok Johnston preached two excellent sermons yesterday at the opening of the new First Presbyterian church. Between twelve and thirteen hundred persons attended the morning service. Quite a number united with the church.

Competition or consolidation is the question that confronts the Lake Shore in the Nickel Plate matter. To take it is to assume a burden that does not promise well; to drop it is to see it go into the hands of a rival, to compete for both local and through traffic.

The ordination and installation of the Rev. D. S. Kennedy as pastor of the Third Presbyterian church will take place in the audience room of the church this evening at 7:30. Rev. J. G. Lowrie, moderator of the Presbytery, will preach and Rev. Herriok Johnston, of Chicago, will give the charge to people and pastor.

On the 22d of June next will occur the ninth anniversary of the Royal Arcanum, it being founded in the city of Boston nine years ago. Starting with a few enthusiastic believers, it has grown wonderfully. To-day it numbers about 62,000 members. It has disbursed more than five millions to the widows and dependents of its deceased members.

The Clay club is looking with much interest to its annual banquet and the bright high school graduates have named these committees to arrange for their reunion feast: Arrangements, H. Wise, A. Pickard, W. Cromwell. Program, F. G. Stringer, Ed. Bricker, H. Stork. Invitation, F. R. Foster, R. B. Hanna, N. A. Robertson.

About 17,626 tons of freight were shipped out of Chicago last week. The Nickel Plate and Pittsburg road got their pool per centage. The Wabash, a non pool line, has averaged about twenty car loads of grain daily, or quite two thousand tons for the week. It has kept this up if not exceeded it for the last six weeks, so it will be seen that the Wabash is doing quite as well as any of the pool roads.

The Catholic Knights of America held an important meeting yesterday and the following gentlemen were chosen delegates to the annual convention of the Catholic Knights of St. John, at Cincinnati, June 24: P. S. O'Rourke, Patrick Ryan, R. W. T. DeWald, H. C. Berghoff and W. S. O'Rourke. The knights will run a popular excursion to Cincinnati Saturday evening, June 26 at 8 p. m., returning Sunday evening, June 27. The following committee on arrangements was named: Louis Fox, J. B. A RASH YOUTH

Esau Baker Mangled by a Muncie Train.

There was almost a fatality on the Muncie road Friday evening last. The south bound train reached a point four miles this side of Sheldon, in this county, and Engineer Dan O'Neill noticed two staggering men on the track. He sounded the whistle, when one of the fellows refused to leave the track. It was too late and brief than it takes to tell it, Esau Baker was tossed into the air and pitched into the ditch. His right leg was broken, his arm shattered and his back almost broken. He lays at Sheldon almost dead. His companion was William Howell, and he says it was Baker's boast that he would make the engineer whistle. "and he did," remarked Conductor Sheehan, who picked the man up. Baker's father is serving a term in the prison north for killing Howell's father in Pleasant township. The companionship was a queer one. A telegram from Sheldon this morning reports the death of Baker last night, and an inquest will be held.

THE WABASH.

An Official Talks About its Condition.

Speaking of the recent sale of the Wabash, an official connected with the road and familiar with all of its workings, says: "The property of the system is in first-class shape. The rolling stock and engines will compare with any in the country; the road bed has been recently rebalanced, the track is almost all steel, and the 2,500 miles in excellent order. The system, with St. Louis as a center, radiates from St. Louis to Toledo and Detroit, to Chicago and Kansas City. The line to Council Bluffs was recently withdrawn, but will probably again be acquired. The sale does not involve any future complication, and the system will retain all of its integral lines, although there will be a change of policy. It is difficult to outline it at the present time, but the freedom from a heavy bonded indebtedness, with which it was loaded down, insures it as much prosperity as other western roads not over-capitalized. No one familiar with transportation interests, and with a knowledge of the country tributary to the Wabash, ever doubted its earning capacity, but the trouble has been that it was bonded for more than it could legitimately carry. Under the new regime the Wabash will be one of the most valuable pieces of railroad property in the United States."

The Advertised Letters.

Postmaster Kaough sends THE SENTINEL this advertised list of letters: Bowser, Mrs. Annie Parry, Mrs. Katie Beals, John Pollock, Josie Andrie Lizzie, Russell, F. P. Delemos, A. Beam, C. W. Dalton, Jim Ruby, A. T. McDonell, Mrs. Rodgers, Jeannie Esterlin, Wm. Robison, Jacob C. Everett, Mrs. Geo. Shaw, Gus Faldenburg, Wilson Steward, Carrie Fahey, John Sargent, J. H. THE VERDICT.

The Primaries and the Ticket Nominated by the Democrats.

The primary elections Saturday were the most stubbornly contested on record. The result shows that Judge Lowry has thirty-one out of the forty-four delegates chosen. Hon. Montgomery Hamilton carried the Fifth and Sixth wards, and Hon. W. G. Colerick has one delegate in the Eighth ward and one in Perry township. Hon. S. S. Shutt is credited with two or three delegates. Judge Lowry elected a big majority of the delegates in Noble county, and his nomination seems to be assured on the first ballot. THE SENTINEL awaits that event, simply giving the events now as they are.

The vote for water works trustee resulted in giving Mr. J. F. William Meyer, the wholesale druggist and representative citizen, a big majority.

This excellent aldermanic ticket was nominated in a free and fair contest in every ward save the Fifth, where there was no democratic candidate against Herman Michael, an independent.

First ward—John Henry Pranger. Second ward—Dennis Monahan. Third ward—Dr. Henry A. Read. Fourth ward—Milton N. Webber. Sixth ward—Thomas Ahern. Seventh ward—Peter J. Scheid. Eighth ward—Frank Goeck. Ninth ward—J. R. Prentiss.

A WORD TO DEMOCRATS.

The municipal election occurs to-morrow. It is not a contest of men, but now distinctly a party contest, inasmuch as the republicans have nominated candidates for every office from water works trustee down. The democrats of Fort Wayne ought to manifest their good will toward President Cleveland, who placed its honored citizen, Hon. A. P. Edger-ton, at the head of the civil service board. The democrats are asking a place on the state ticket for one of their popular leaders, Hon. Charles A. Munson. In the face of these and other aspirations that Fort Wayne democrats have, we cannot afford to lose a vote. We cannot afford to lose this election, nor suffer the defeat of regular democratic nominees and THE SENTINEL appeals to the patriotism of the democrats of Fort Wayne to redeem the loss of a few weeks ago. When you vote to-morrow it is for the party, not the man, because the party name is squarely at stake, and any loss of prestige here will be heralded abroad as a rebuke to the democrats in power and will mitigate against democratic success at less stronger points.

These are the regular authorized voting places in the city:

VOTING PRECINCTS. First Ward.—First precinct, Hartmann's grocery; second precinct, northeast corner of Lewis and Lafayette streets. Second Ward.—First precinct, Esquire Ryan's office; second precinct, Washington house. Third Ward.—First precinct, Custer house; second precinct, Humphrey & Gervoy's office. Fourth Ward.—First precinct, northeast corner of Washington and Fulton streets; second precinct, southwest corner of Jefferson and Ewing streets. Fifth Ward.—First precinct, Rippe's livery stable; second precinct, Langzohr's bakery. Sixth Ward.—First precinct, Testmeter building on Highland street; second precinct, No. 15 Colerick street. Seventh Ward.—First precinct, Engine house; second precinct, John Tremmel's residence. Eighth Ward.—First precinct northeast corner of Francis and Jefferson streets; second precinct, No. 104 Maumee road. Ninth Ward.—First precinct, Strodel's boarding house; second precinct, Peters Box & Lumber Co.

The Amusements This Week.

"Burr Oaks" will be presented at the Academy for three nights, beginning this evening. "A Box of Cash" will conclude the week's engagement at this popular house. Annie Pixley, one of the most pleasing ladies on the stage, will present Clary Greene's "Miss" at the Temple to-night. Miss Pixley will sing her newest songs and medleys, and altogether give a very pleasing performance. Mr. Joseph Proctor and Miss Annie Proctor appear at the Temple Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Wednesday night Mr. Proctor presents "Virginius," and Thursday night he will be seen as "The Jibbenahay," in Nick of the Woods.

BILL HALEY

Batters His Head and Cuts His Throat at the Paulding Jail.

Dr. J. M. Dinnan was east on the Nickel Plate road yesterday, and tells THE SENTINEL that Bill Haley, a Monroe township character, and equally as notorious here, attempted suicide in the Paulding, Ohio, jail Saturday night. He almost battered his brains out against the jail walls and iron door of his cell. He staggered to his iron couch and then drew a knife across his throat, cutting a frightful gash. His condition was discovered by jail inmates and doctors were called. It is not known whether Haley is still alive or not. He is charged with murdering Matt Crosby in a saloon fight at Latty, some weeks ago.

ROTHSCHILD & BROS

27 CALHOUN STREET.

Lafayette, Ind., shares with twenty-three other cities and towns in the United States, the distinction of being named after the great French patriot who did so much for this country and his own, but it is alone in the honor of being mentioned in the Encyclopedia Britannica. Life in the lively bustling city of the Vandalia, with its many cozy homes, fine public buildings and general air of prosperity and enterprise, is very pleasant, and recently many of its citizens feel that it has assumed new charms since rheumatism has been robbed of its terrors.

This great benefactor, however, is not one which rejoices this particular Lafayette alone, but it has been given to other Lafayettes as well, and to the world. Athrophoros is the magic remedy which drives away rheumatism and neuralgia, and Lafayette has only shown its characteristic enterprise in recognizing the new cure's many virtues. Among those whom it has benefited is Mrs. Francis Heath, of No. 79 Ferry street, an old resident and the mother of banker Heath. In answer to one who recently called on her to learn the facts in the case she gave this account:

"I have had rheumatic pains in my feet for a number of years. They afflicted me at times so that it was with much difficulty that I could walk, especially in going down stairs. Athrophoros was first recommended to me by Bishop Bowman. I did not get it at that time, but kept trying other remedies. It was again recommended to me by a lady. I then sent for and bought a bottle. I took a dose, and it seemed to me as if I could feel it go through my system until it came directly to the sore spot. It felt just as a little stream of water looks when during its course it comes in contact with a pebble. One or the other must give way. The water may run around the stone, but that was not the way Athrophoros did. It did not go around the pain, but drove it away. The relief was almost instantaneous. While I am getting along in years and cannot expect to get rid entirely of these pains at once, yet a small dose of Athrophoros in a little case—the way in which I find most pleasant to take it—relieves the pain immediately."

Mr. Baldridge, who is in the real estate and insurance business at No. 94 South Third street, and who lives at No. 17 North Sixth street, happening to be passing while Mrs. Heath was speaking, she called him in and he gladly told how he had been cured of rheumatism by Athrophoros.

"I was just about to start down to my office one morning last winter," he said, "when a terrible pain took me right in the hip and then ran down the sciatic nerve as quick as lightning. It was with much pain and distress that I managed to get down to my office at all. My business being such that it was necessary for me to be at the office every day, I was obliged to hobble along and get there the best I could. I suffered for some time in this way, trying all kinds of remedies, but nothing seemed to check the disease until I commenced using Athrophoros. The first four doses gave me relief. I only used one bottle, and am perfectly well, as you see me now. I have never had any return of the pain since I took the Athrophoros."

If you cannot get Athrophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be deceived by something else, but order at once from us, addressed, ATHROPHOROS CO., 112 West Street, New York.

Ladies

Do you want a pure, blooming complexion? If so, a few applications of Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM will gratify you to your heart's content. It does away with sallowness, redness, pimples, blotches, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes a lady of THIRTY appear but TWENTY; and so natural, graceful, and perfect are its effects, that it is impossible to detect its application.

33,000 ACRES MINNESOTA

Lands are to be sold at Public Auction. The Trustee of the Estate of Jay Cooke & Co., in Bankruptcy, will offer for sale to the highest bidder 33,000 acres of valuable lands yet remaining. The real estate must be disposed of immediately so as to settle with creditors. Such an opportunity is rarely offered for a sale and paying investment. Sale takes place at the Chicago Real Estate Board, Room 6, 101 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill., Wednesday, May 28, at 12 noon. Each tract sold separately. Address W. J. Barnhart & Co., 67 Tribune Building, Chicago, Ill., or to James O. Young, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, April 24/91.

who are more to make a large profit on a worthless article than to wait the propriety that medicine should have. Some of these are the men who when asked for a bottle of Caprine Plaster, will recommend some other and trashy substitute, or will say that it is not for sale here. Some of them will do up and sell the inferior imitation without remark, allowing the customer to suppose he has bought the real thing. The value of the plaster is returned. Cheap John will say he made a mistake. He will not believe a good article of business. The public are cautioned against such a man. Buy of respectable druggists only. A GIRL in Maine boasts that she can make 338 kinds of cake. The man who owns her 338 kinds of cake will probably have 338 kinds of nightmare to match the cake.—Newman Independent.

AS AN instance of the richness of the gold mines around Dahlonega, Georgia, an old miner says that he was offered $35 for his working suit of clothes by a gentleman who wanted to burn the suit and pan the ashes for the gold contained in the suit. The offer was refused because he says he can get more than that amount for them.

THIRTY-TWO men and 140 women are busy in the annex of the Agricultural Department building supplying the Congressional demand for seed just now. Six thousand paper packages of vegetable seed, 500 of flower seed, 300 of tobacco, twenty quarts of sorghum, twenty of corn, fifty of grass, twenty-eight quarts of sugar beet, and thirty-two quarts of cotton seed, in the allowance of each Senator and Representative.

THE New York legislature has passed and the Governor has signed a bill termed "The Niagara Tunnel and Sewer Bill," which is expected to make Niagara Falls one of the great commercial centers of the State. Rights have been granted the incorporators to construct a tunnel, erect mills, build wharves, and engage in developing the water power of the Niagara river. The tunnel is to be two miles in length, along the edge of the river, and is expected to furnish power enough for 155 mills.

THE exigencies of politics in Colorado are illustrated in a story of the Senatorship contest out of which Henry M. Teller was elected to the United States Senate. The mother of State Senator Stephenson, who was one of Teller's supporters, died in Nebraska two or three days before the caucus was to meet. In order to attend the funeral and get back in time Stephenson was obliged to take a special train and make the trip at night. The train consisted of an engine and one car. The engineer had instructions to stop for nothing. It was a cold night and cattle had strayed upon the tracks at different points to sleep. When the engineer discovered a bunch of these he just pulled the throttle valve a little wider open and sent the beaver flying in the air. They killed seventy-five head of cattle on the trip.

THE Comanche (Texas) Chief has this notice of a specimen of Southern eloquence: "Luther Benson, the great temperance orator, lectured to densely crowded houses Thursday and Friday nights. Never have we heard such an awful and terrific denunciation of the whisky traffic and the evils of alcohol. It would take the most extravagant praise of every man, woman, and child present to give the faintest idea of the real grandeur of that man's words—the drollest, the prettiest, the most sublime, or the saddest words that ever fell from human lips. With every flight he seemed to rise higher and higher, and when he brought his majestic, sweeping gestures into play he was like the eagle parting the clouds with a tireless wing; then he would lower his splendid voice, and in a tone of unutterable tenderness, relate some pathetic incident that caused tears to rush unbidden to every eye; and then suddenly, with a tongue of flame, he thundered away in a fierce attack against the evil that has draped the world in sorrow, while his great, sad eyes seemed to look clear across the plains of eternity. He finally closed with reference to his God, and, raising those luminous eyes to heaven, he delivered an apostrophe that is seldom equaled. It was a burst of solemn and pathetic feeling; it was electric. It was like the last beam of sunset, or the gleam of summer lightning, radiating from the brow of cliff and mountain."

JENNY LIND, at the age of 63, is said to still possess a wonderful sweetness of voice. She rejoices in two daughters happily married.

THE mother of Gen. McPherson receives a pension of $50 a month, and that amount is also paid to the widow of twenty-six deceased generals of the late war—Haskellman, Richardson, Wallace, Plummer, Stevens, Baker, Whipple, Sumner, Bedwell, Harris, Berry, Lovell, Anderson, Canby, Thomas, Heintzleman, Stanley, Mitchell, Casey, Taylor, Roscoe, Custer, French, Ramsey, and Warren. The widows of Admirals Wood, Reynolds, Hooffe, Bell, Davis, Winslow, Paulding, Rodgers, Spotts and Goldboro, and of Commodores Gallagher, Frailey, McCanley, McCarver and Quest of the navy receive a similar amount, as do the widows of Colonels Harris, Delaney, and Twigg of the marine corps. The only widow of a civilian drawing a pension is Mrs. A. B. Muehlman, whose husband was a chief of the Modoc Peace Commission, and was killed for life in the massacre of 1873, when Gen. Canby was killed. She receives a pension of $30 per month, granted by Congress in 1883. The pension of $2,000 a year that has been granted Mrs. Hancock is the largest paid to the widow of any soldier, except Mrs. Grant, who receives the $5,000 a year granted to the widows of Presidents. Mrs. Poll, Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Garfield. The widow of General and ex-Senator Shields receives the next largest sum, $1,200 a year, granted to her by a special act of Congress in 1879.

A HORRIBLE deed of blood committed near Girgenti gives an illustration of the use of the knife in the Island of Sicily. Two butchers, father and son, of the name of Indelicato, who kept a shop in that town, not long since took two brothers named Alfonso and Giovanni Cannetoni into partnership. Before long the Cannetonis began to trade in lambs' carcasses separately on their own account, and disagreement arose, which ultimately led to a collision between Baldassare Indelicato and Alfonso Cannetoni. They drew their butchers' knives from their belts on each other. Alfonso aimed a well-directed blow at Baldassare. He parried it with his left arm, which was cut to the bone, and at the same instant drove his knife into the heart of Alfonso, who fell dead on the spot. At that moment a young son of Alfonso, aged 19, came up with a bludgeon to his father's assistance. Baldassare struck him to the ground, and then cut his throat across "as he would have slaughtered a sheep." Mad with rage, Baldassare then rushed into the shop, and, taking Giovanni, the younger brother of Alfonso, by surprise, killed him with a slash across the abdomen. Turning then to leave the shop he inflicted a serious wound on a person just entering. All this occurred in the space of four minutes, the result of the collision being three persons killed and two wounded.

FRANCE is surrounded with many dangers, mostly growing out of the hostility of the three Emperors to Republican France. Bismarck has made a threat to dismember Savoy and Nice and give it to Italy, as the price of her alliance. France and England are practically the only nations of Europe representing individualism and democratic institutions, and it is upon them that will fall the weight of the three communitarian nations of Central and Eastern Europe, and in which we will certainly become involved. England, France, and the United States are the three great powers representing ideas that the balance of Europe will engage. The conflict on the line of this idea is inevitable, although it may be somewhat removed in point of time. Just now democratic institutions in England and America are undergoing considerable strain, and the question of permanency of society and orderly government will be better known a couple of years hence. The recent exhibition of popular sentiment in Germany and the growth of the democratic idea there will render a war of repression by the Holy Alliance somewhat doubtful to the three Kaisers, who, in a war with France, would look all Europe in a solidarity of communal despotism.

MR. BRECHER was asked by an interviewer what he thought of Sam Jones. "He seems to be a sincere man who has doubtless done some good, but who has not extended the bounds of his thought perhaps," said he. "It may be that the people he reached did not care much about the bounds of thought. Because a man does not like one style of preaching it does not follow that he has a right to condemn it. There are all kinds of churches and all kinds of preachers, and if a man does not like one he can go to another. Because he does not like his out of zeal he cannot say that the guests of the hotel are to be deprived of zeal. Instead, he ought to look over the hill of fare and select what he wants and let the other people around the table do the same. He has apparently reached a class that need to be reached. In this case he has doubtless done good work. Of all the evangelists Mr. Moody is the broadest and deepest, and his influence will be the most permanent."

CAPT. BOYCOTT, who will live as an active verb in the English language long after he will be forgotten as an Irish land agent, has sold his property at Lough Mask, County Mayo, Ireland, and removed to England, where he is appointed agent of the Flixton Hall estates of Lord Waveney. Capt. Boycott has been for many years a patron of the Irish turf, and kept some famous racers. He was agent for the estates of the Earl of Erne in Ireland, and his harshness and cruelty helped to precipitate the recent Irish land war. Since he was boycotted, six years ago, he has lived in peace with the tenantry, and has grown as nearly popular as an Irish land agent can hope to be.

OF Gen. Von Manteuffel, the late German military Governor of conquered Alsace, who hated all that was French, it is said that he once, at a public dinner, engaged in a dispute with a French diplomat who maintained the superiority of the French workmen over the artisans of all other nations. "A thing so ugly does not exist that the skill and genius of a Frenchman cannot make of it a thing of beauty," he said. Angered by the contradiction, the old soldier pulled a hair from his bristly gray mustache and, handing it to the Frenchman, said, "Let him make a thing of beauty out of that, then, and prove your claim." The Frenchman took the hair and sent it in a letter to a well-known Parisian jeweler, with a statement of the case and an appeal to his patriotic pride, giving him no limit of expense in executing the order. A week later the mail from Paris brought a neat little box for the general. In it was a handsome scarf-pin, made like a stiff gray bristle, from either end of which dangled a tiny golden ball. One was inscribed Alsace, the other Lorraine, and on the eagle's perch were the words: "You hold them but by a hair."

BILIOUSNESS.
Is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may follow. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

ANOTHER BOBBY DEAD.

Quinine in Disfavor

(The Kharkoo Region of Russia.)
In the Kharkoo region of Russia, quinine is considered of no account for the cure of chills and fever. The Kharkoo doctor catches a mess of live crabs, pours whiskey over them until they become thoroughly drunk, and then puts them in a hot oven. After being well dried, they are pulverized, shells and all and administered in drachm doses. Where the crabs most abound in this country, in the waters of the Eastern shore of Maryland and the Eastern shore of Virginia, the inhabitants have long since abandoned the use of quinine and sensibly resort to prevention in the use of pure whiskey. In the malarial sections of the great West, Southwest and South, this once famed remedy is now looked upon as worse than the disease. In territories where the malarial fever is first broken, the malarial poison exuding therefrom spreads pestilence far and near. Years ago in the homes of the first settlers, an admixture of whiskey and quinine was the favorite dose for the chills, but after years of dosing in this crude manner, quinine has long since been given up and whiskey only remains in the flask, for family and medicinal use. Experience taught these settlers long ago, that the amount of quinine required to drive out the malarial poison in the blood, left in its place, if not a worse poison, a condition of the system made worse instead of better. The effects of the quinine were clearly defined in long continued headaches, disordered stomachs, clouded mental faculties, disturbed sleep, and morbid appetite, and the only virtue discovered in its use they thought attributable to the whiskey in the mixture. The medical profession has very gratefully modified its belief in quinine in a specific. The Medical Journal, October, 1883, containing an article by L. B. Anderson, M. D., Norfolk, Va., to which the learned doctor uses this emphatic language: "I hope I may be pardoned for saying that the present empirical use of quinine is worthy of the darkest period of the dark ages. It is a blighting shame and disgrace to our profession." The people exposed to malarial fever fortify their systems against the approach and inroads of the diseases preceding from it, and by the use of pure unadulterated stimulants ward off attack. Now that Duffy's pure malt-whiskey is the only absolutely pure whiskey, free from fusel oil, as has been tested by chemists, it is the recognized cure in malarial attacks and so recognized by the people and the medical profession.

LIBRARIAN OF CONGRESS.

Also Our Greatest Statistician and Bibliographer.

When in 1802 Congress founded its library it also provided that a Librarian should be engaged and paid at the rate of $2 per day when actually employed. The present Librarian, Ainsworth S. Spofford, has a salary of $4,000, with twenty-three assistants with salaries ranging from $2,500 to $180, the entire salary list being $38,000 per annum. This is itself an indication of the growth of the institution, which will in a few years have a building adequate to its needs.

AINSWORTH S. SPOFFORD.

Mr. Spofford was a New Hampshire boy, born sixty-one years ago. His education was had at private schools, and included chiefly a thorough classical course. He was chosen an assistant Librarian of Congress chiefly through the remarkable talent displayed in compiling statistics, coupled with one of the most retentive memories. In 1864, he published an alphabetical catalogue of the library, and this with supplements which have followed is exceedingly valuable to bibliographers. In 1875 Mr. Spofford became principal Librarian and has worked ceaselessly for the advancement of the library, it being very largely through his efforts that the new library building has become so near a fact. The American Almanac is edited by Mr. Spofford, and is truly a treasury of facts. In 1870 the copyright business was transferred from the patent office to the care of Congress. This has largely increased his labors.

Only members of Congress and about forty high officials of the government are allowed to take books out of this library, and yet there are 5,000 books out all the time. The library is open daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and any one above 16 years of age is allowed free use of its books for consultation within its walls.

THE NEW CHINESE MINISTER.

His Picture and His Life as Far as Known.

His excellency, Chang Yen Woon, is the new Chinese minister to the United States. He is said to be tall and handsome. The last part of the statement seems rather startling. Mr. Woon is picturesque-looking, sitting there in his quilted petticoats and queer little cap, like the pictures on a Chinese tea box, but one would not at first call him handsome. However, he might grow on one, in time, becoming, like Kaitisha in "The Mikado," an acquired taste. Perhaps in due time the Washington society ladies will have over him in their amiable manner, and call him a sweet thing.

NON. A. Y. WOON.

It must be with mingled feelings that he sets foot upon American soil, and dismount must be one of the feelings. He came by way of San Francisco, but he and his legation were not allowed to land for some time in this free country because of the stiff laws relating to Chinese immigrants. They were treated as common Chinese laborers until their papers were all gone through and their east-iron credentials proved. This of itself could have been nothing less than a mortal insult to the high-minded mandarin. China must have America, anyhow.

After the delay on shipboard the legation, nine persons in all, proceeded to the Palace hotel in San Francisco, thence eastward.

Chung Yen Woon is a gentleman of high culture. He wears peacock feathers in his cap. That is the badge of a mandarin of the second rank. His thumb ring and pointed finger nails also show his high degree. He is 54 years old, and dresses in the rich silks and gold embroidery. His wardrobe would make a city 100,000 men with envy. But his wardrobe is not his chief recommendation. He is a highly cultured man, to begin, and a trained diplomat besides. In his own country he has held responsible offices in the bureau of foreign affairs. His manners are polished and winning; and don't tell him—but in this respect he has the advantage of some of the ministers the United States has sent to foreign parts.

The Chinese embassy at this moment has duties of unusual importance on its hands. Through it will have to be settled the little frictions in which our untutored countrymen up in Washington territory lately annoyed themselves by killing and robbing Chinamen. That was their idea of fun. Chung Yen Woon is charged with very special dispatches regarding this matter. His emperor's last instructions to him were to prosecute an amicable feeling between the two nations. Two or three members of the legation were educated in America. Long Shih, the interpreter, is a graduate of Amherst college. He wears the sword, cap and gold button of a mandarin of the seventh degree. Liu and Leung, two other members of the embassy, were also educated here.

Saloon keepers of Jeffersonville are organizing to force upon the city council a reduction in their city license tax, and propose to make it an issue in the city election of next Tuesday.

A POEM TO CORA.

George Graham's Ode to His Missouri Mistress.

This was George Graham's last effusion on Cora Lee, for whom he had mad infatuation:

ON A LEE SHORE.
Lost lurk, ill-fated crew,
No earthly power can aid you in this gale;
To loved ones you have spoken your last adieu,
The sea to-night will choke your dying wail.

The mermaids of the deep are waiting you
No soul may escape to tell the mournful tale;
How dark winged death above the tempest flew,
And touched with heavy hand your fated sail.

How back, he needs no more your pitying aid,
God grant he hath found rest;
The wild waves make no terrors; storms
He sleeps as sweet as if soft winds caressed.

Back to the land, while threatening thun-
ders roar,
While the death-light hides in the black
cloud's breast,
Through wind and tide he brought two souls ashore.

And for him who died, God's will His best.
—GRAHAM.

Your medicine—Athlophores, has done me more good than all others put together. I can recommend it highly to those suffering from rheumatism and neuralgia. I am to-day free from rheumatism. Mrs. Orville Stone, Englewood, Kansas.

Isaac Herr has disposed of his interest in the Lafayette Journal.

Charles Price, a hostler employed by W. T. Beauchamp, at Terra Haute, was kicked in the head by a horse and will probably die.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Rev. H. E. ERRELL, of Pavilion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family."

WILLIS L. CULVER, of Pavilion, N. Y., says that Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir cured him of a long-standing throat and lung trouble.

LADIES, Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for nervousness and sleeplessness. CONFINED TO THE BED FOUR MONTHS, and Almost blind, and cured by one box of Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir.

WHAT WILL CURE THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES? Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir.

Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the two properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up to strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons are left around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal ailment by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

Made simply with boiling water or milk sold only in half pound tins by grocers, or mailed thus: JAMES EPPS & CO., Homoeopathic Chemists, London, England.

OUR BREAD IN DANGER.

The Alarming Increase in Baking Powder Adulterations.

Among recent important discoveries by the food analysts is that by Prof. Morr, U. S. Government Chemist, of large amounts of lime and alum in the cheap baking powders. It is a startling fact that of over one hundred different brands of baking powder so far analyzed, comprising all those sold in this vicinity, not one, with the single exception of Royal Baking Powder, was found free from both lime and alum.

The use of alum is to produce a cheap baking powder. It costs less than two cents a pound, whereas pure cream of tartar costs forty. Its effect upon the system has been ascertained to be poisonous, and overdoses have been attended with fatal results. Lime is the most useless adulterant yet found in baking powders. It is true that when subjected to heat a certain amount of carbonic acid gas is given off, but a quicklime is left, a caustic so powerful that it is used by tanners to eat the hair from hides of animals, and in dissecting rooms to more quickly rot the flesh from the bones of dead subjects.

The effect of lime upon the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys, more particularly of infants and children, and especially when taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal, is pernicious in the extreme, and is said by physicians to be one of the chief causes of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the kidneys. Chemists have found 12 per cent., or one-eighth of the weight, of some of the baking powders prominently sold in this vicinity, to be lime. The wickedness of this adulteration is apparent.

The absolute purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder—now affirmed by every chemist and food analyst of prominence, and conceded by all manufacturers of other brands—arises from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined by patent processes, which remove totally the lime and all other impurities. These facilities are possessed by no other manufacturer. The Chemist of the Department of Health of Brooklyn, N. Y., in which city the works of the Royal Baking Powder Company are situated, after recent numerous experiments, reports:

"I subjected several samples of the Royal Baking Powder, purchased from dealers in Brooklyn, to chemical analysis, and I take pleasure in stating that this powder has attained a most remarkable purity. I am unable to detect the slightest trace of lime tartrate in it, while all its constituents are pure and of the highest quality. The 'Royal' is a baking powder undoubtedly of the greatest leavening power, and perfectly wholesome.

ANTI-KALSOMIN.

We are now the agents for the only permanent wall finish Anti-Kalsomine. It covers as well as kalsomine, need never be washed to be renewed; will take a hundred coats if necessary, without cracking, chalking or peeling off. It is sanitary in its composition, kalsomine is not. It is also an excellent primer for outside as well as inside work; it fills the pores of the wood better than whitelead, ochre or any known pigment; makes a more solid surface, is much cheaper than ochre or lead, and is the best covering for walls known. Try it and be convinced.

We have also a large stock of wall paper patterns, ceiling decorations and borders, mixed paints, brushes, artists' materials, etc. Give us a call at the paint and paper store of Wilding & Son, 191 Calhoun street. 13-1m

About 17,625 tons of freight were shipped out of Chicago last week. The Nickel Plate and Pittsburg road got their pool per centage. The Wabash, a non pool line, has averaged about twenty car loads of grain daily, or quite two thousand tons for the week. It has kept this up if not exceeded it for the last six weeks, so it will be seen that the Wabash is doing quite as well as any of the pool roads.

The Catholic Knights of America held an important meeting yesterday and the following gentlemen were chosen delegates to the annual convention of the Catholic Knights of St. John, at Cincinnati, June 21: P. A RASH YOUTH

Esau Baker Mangled by a Municipal Train.

There was almost a fatality on the Muncie road Friday evening last. The south bound train reached a point four miles this side of Sheldon, in this county, and Engineer Dan O'Neill noticed two staggering men on the track. He sounded the whistle, when one of the fellows refused to leave the track. It was too late and brief as it takes to tell it, Esau Baker was tossed into the air and pitched into the ditch. His right leg was broken, his arm shattered and his back almost broken. He lays at Sheldon almost dead. His companion was William Howell, and he says it was Baker's boast that he would make the engineer whistle, "sandhedid," remarked Conductor Sheehan, who picked the man up. Baker's father is serving a term in the prison north for killing Howell's father in Pleasant township. The companionship was a queer one.

A telegram from Sheldon this morning reports the death of Baker last night, and an inquest will be held.

THE WABASH.

An Official Talks About its Condition.

Speaking of the recent sale of the Wabash, an official connected with the road and familiar with all its workings, says: "The property of the system is in first-class shape. The rolling stock and engines will compare with any in the country; the road bed has been recently relaid, the track is almost all steel, and the 2,500 miles in excellent order. The system, with St. Louis as a center, radiates from St. Louis to Toledo and Detroit, to Chicago and Kansas City. The line to Council Bluffs was recently withdrawn, but will probably again be re-acquired. The sale does not involve any future complication, and the system will retain all of its integral lines, although there will be a change of policy. It is difficult to outline it at the present time, but the freedom from a heavy bonded indebtedness, with which it was loaded down, insures it as much prosperity as other western roads not over-capitalized. No one familiar with transportation interests, and with a knowledge of the country tributary to the Wabash, ever doubted its earning capacity, but the trouble has been that it was bonded for more than it could legitimately carry. Under the new regime the Wabash will be one of the most valuable pieces of railroad property in the United States."

The Advertised Letters.

Postmaster Kaough sends THE SENTINEL this advertised list of letters: Bowser, Mrs. Annie Parry, Mrs. Katie Baals, John Pollack, Josie Andrie Lizzie, Russell, F. P. Delonoe, A. T. Beam, C. W. Dalton, Jim Ruby, A. T. McDonell, Mrs. Rodgers, Jeannie Eslerlin, Wm. Robison, Jacob C Everett, Mrs. Geo Shaw, Gus Faldenburg, Wilson Steward, Currie Fahoy, John Sargent, J. H. Friend, Mrs. Maggie Taylor, H. C. & Co Gray, James O. Turner, Mrs. Fannie Gellar, J. V. Thomas, Elizabeth Gellar, Ella M. VanHorn, Mrs. Lina B Grimm, H. W. Whitstone, Fred Hartman, Chas Wright, Annus Hnak, Mrs. Anna Welker, Joel Howard, Lott Wolf, Hugo Jehnt, Thomas Wintur, Leo Kelly, Thomas Young, Amos Kennington, Lola Ledger & Advocate LaFonia, J. H. Mame, Samuel E Michael, Dottie Moor, Mrs. Louisa McDole, Chas Nichols, J. F.

THE VERDICT.

The Primaries and the Ticket Nominated by the Democrats.

The primary elections Saturday were the most stubbornly contested on record. The result shows that Judge Lowry has thirty-one out of the forty-four delegates chosen. Hon. Montgomery Hamilton carried the Fifth and Sixth wards, and Hon. W. G. Colerick has one delegate in the Eighth ward and one in Perry township. Hon. S. S. Sluitt is credited with two or three delegates. Judge Lowry elected a big majority of the delegates in Noble county, and his nomination seems to be assured on the first ballot. THE SEYMOUR awaits that event, simply giving the events now as they are.

The vote for water works trustee resulted in giving Mr. J. F. William Meyer, the wholesale druggist and representative citizen, a big majority. This excellent aldermanic ticket was nominated in a free and fair contest in every ward save the Fifth, where there was no democratic candidate against Herman Michael, an independent: First ward—John Henry Pranger. Second ward—Dennis Monahan. Third ward—Dr. Henry A. Road. Fourth ward—Milton N. Webber. Sixth ward—Thomas Ahern. Seventh ward—Peter J. Scheld. Eighth ward—Frank Cooke. Ninth ward—J. R. Prentiss.

A WORD TO DEMOCRATS. The municipal election occurs to-morrow. It is not a contest of men, but now distinctly a party contest, inasmuch as the republicans have nominated candidates for every office from water works trustee down. The democrats of Fort Wayne ought to manifest their good will toward President Cleveland, who placed his honored citizen, Hon. A. P. Edgerton, at the head of the civil service board. The democrats are asking a place on the state ticket for one of their popular leaders, Hon. Charles A. Munson. In the face of these and other aspirations that Fort Wayne democrats have, we cannot afford to lose a vote. We cannot afford to lose this election, nor suffer the defeat of regular democratic nominees and THE SENTINEL appeals to the patriotism of the democrats of Fort Wayne to redeem the loss of a few weeks ago. When you vote to-morrow it is for the party, not the man, because the party name is squarely at stake, and any loss of prestige here will be heralded abroad as a rebuke to the democrats in power and will mitigate against democratic success at less stronger points.

These are the regular authorized voting places in the city:

VOTING PRECINCTS. First Ward.—First precinct, Hartmann's grocery; second precinct, northeast corner of Lewis and Lafayette streets. Second Ward.—First precinct, Esquire Ryan's office; second precinct, Washington house. Third Ward.—First precinct, Ouster house; second precinct, Humphrey & Gowen's office. Fourth Ward.—First precinct, northeast corner of Washington and Fulton streets; second precinct, northwest corner of Jefferson and Ewing streets. Fifth Ward.—First precinct, Rippe's livery stable; second precinct, Langlois's bakery. Sixth Ward.—First precinct, Tegmeyer building on Highland street; second precinct, No. 10 Colerick street. Seventh Ward.—First precinct, Engino house; second precinct, John Tremmel's residence. Eighth Ward.—First precinct, northeast corner of Francis and Jefferson streets; second precinct, No. 104 Nauvoo road. Ninth Ward.—First precinct, Strand's boarding house; second precinct, Peters Box & Lumber Co.

BILL HALEY

Batters His Head and Cuts His Throat at the Paulding Jail.

Dr. J. M. Dinnun was east on the Nickel Plate road yesterday, and tells THE SENTINEL that Bill Haley, a Monroe township character, and equally as notorious here, attempted suicide in the Paulding, Ohio, jail Saturday night. He almost battered his brains out against the jail walls and iron door of his cell. He staggered to his iron couch and then drew a knife across his throat, cutting a frightful gash. His condition was discovered by jail inmates and doctors were called. It is not known whether Haley is still alive or not. He is charged with murdering Matt Crosby in a saloon fight at Latty, some weeks ago.
